THE ATTENTION OF SHIPPERS and passengers is particularly directed to the superior facilities the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company's Line affords for the speedy conveyance of Treasure, Goods and Passengers to and from England to British Columbia and Vancouver Island, in connection with the Pacific Mail Steamship Company's Vessels and the Panama Railroad.

The superiority of the accommodation and entertainment on board the Royal Mail Steamers, together with the time occupied on the passage between England and Aspinwall direct being so much shorter than by any other route, and the moderate rate of passage money, render this Company's steamers the CHEAPEST AND MOST EXPEDITIOUS MEANS OF TRANSIT, for passengers or for the forwarding of Goods and Treasure from Aspinwall to Europe.

Under an arrangement with the PACIFIC MAIL STEAMSHIP CO., Specie and Bullion can be conveyed to London and Havre in France

Wednesday Morning, July 2, 1862.

Now is the Time to go to Cariboo—Not to leave.

It is a curious fact that everybody thinks himself immortal and everybody else mortal. Everybody can dare any kind of danger, by sea or land—pestilence and famine, polar frosts and tropical heats—nothing can daunt or stop everybody in his own estimation. There is no earthly evil fit to stop his way. He is a child of destiny and a favorite of fortune; certain to win, and pass through unscathed where anybody else would starve, meet with bad luck, or die. We like everybody's pluck. We admire everybody's determination. It is just what constitutes the soul of progress, and the essence of everything noble and heroical. But whilst we cannot but do justice to indomitable energy, we at the same time condemn imprudence. Everybody is like anybody. There is scarcely a unit's difference between man and man in the race for fortune; and without prudence in prosecuting any undertaking, whether business, war, or matrimony, it is almost sure to be followed by some mishap or other. Where uninterrupted good luck attends one man there are a hundred thousand who meet a chequered carreer diversified by all the vicisitudes that fall to the lot of mortals. The rush to Cariboo this spring, is a faithful picture of man everywhere when acting under some controlling impulse. Blinded by the glitter of the golden hills of Cariboo, every one made up his mind to go as early as possible to the mines. Prudential considerations were entirely lost sight of. The fact of the first of July being early enough to arrive in the mines was folly in the eyes of nearly every one who thought of going. Although last year's experience taught all that the first train arrived at Antler Creek on the 10th of July, yet its labor was lost in trying to convince intending miners that such could be the case this year. In the opinion of the latter they could live through it and be lucky. Men might starve, get strapped, be unable to get credit, take the blues and turn back, have to wait one or two months till the creeks could be prospected properly; but they would be somebody else. Everybody who has gone to the mines this spring thought himself unlike everybody else. But a little wholesome experience has no doubt changed the opinion of numbers in that respect. They now find that when they were told the first of July was early enough to start, they were told the simple unvarnished truth.

As a matter of course some parties have returned from the mines. It is nothing but what was expected. What has always occurred with every rush to gold diggings everywhere. Always will occur. Whenever prudential considerations are thrown aside, and men trust to luck or destiny, and not to means based on a calculation of facts, disappointment is sure to arise in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred. The return of a score, or ten score don't alter our opinion of the mines one iota. If half the miners in Cariboo returned at this season, we would neither alter, modify, or change our opinion of the fabulous wealth of the Bald Hills. On the contrary, we should iterate and reiterate the opinion stronger than ever, that any one who goes to Cariboo at the present season with the necessary means to meet the expenses of going and of waiting to prospect the country for a good claim, is sure to be paid as handsomely for his labor as on the most favored gold diggings on the face of the globe. From an intimate knowledge of what gold diggings are—from the testimony of all who went to Cariboo last year—we are persuaded that now is the time to go to Cariboo.

Last year up to the middle of July, the creeks were so swollen with water that any such thing as thorough prospecting their beds was an impossibility. It was not till near the first of August that the snow entirely disappeared from the Hills in which the auriferous creeks of Cariboo take their rise. Although the same number of complaints were made about large sized claims, and monopoly of claims, the same cry of short provisions at starvation prices packed on men's backs, and a similar scattering through the hills prospecting where no trails then existed but exist now; and to cap the climax a great rush down was reported as something to occur right off—although such was the case last year—yet the last of August and September, October and November, told a tale of the richness of Cariboo that has excited men to the uttermost ends of the earth. We hazard nothing when we predict that, whatever may be the discouragement met by those who rushed to Cariboo this spring in haste, in advance of the season, unprepared to grapple with the difficulties of the upper country till the real mining season opened, the news from the mines in September, October, and November, will so completely overshadow any discouraging statements that may now be made, that nothing will be heard but preparations for another rush next spring. The fulfilment of this prediction will arise entirely from the fact that miners worked the mines in the working season—from now till the first of November. Nothing would induce us to mislead anyone in respect to the mines. We would advise no one to go, did we not think we were justified in it. We believe that anyone properly supplied with means, who shall arrive in Cariboo between now and the first of August, will have an opportunity to prospect the country without any fear of short provisions. The chances of getting a claim or finding employment will be better than at any other period. In short, if we have any advice to give, it is: Now is the season to go to the Cariboo mines.

THE BRITISH COLONIST

Wednesday Morning, July 2, 1862.

Weekly British Colonist.

Copies of the WEEKLY BRITISH COLONIST, ready for mailing to the Canadas, Europe or the United States may be obtained to-day at any of the Bookstores, or at the publication office. The WEEKLY COLONIST contains the very latest British Columbian news received in this city, together with local or foreign news, and miscellaneous reading matter. Price 25 cents.

Arrival from the River.

The steamer Enterprise, with 31 passengers, and the steamer Eliza Anderson, with 10 passengers, arrived yesterday afternoon from Fraser River. Neither boat brought any treasure beyond a small amount in private hands. The river is represented as falling.

A Mr. D. B. Lindley, of Canada, furnishes the Columbian with a very encouraging report of matters at the diggings. Mr. L. and party own a claim on Antler which prospected 37½ cents to the pan. He says that Steele's, Cunningham's and the Cornish claims are doing well; saw plenty of hill diggings, and believes that Cariboo will prove the richest mining country yet discovered. Hundreds of men are selling off their grub and animals and returning on account of the action of the Gold Commissioner in extending the time of holding claims to July 1st, and many men have claims registered under fictitious names. On Antler flour has gone down to 90c per lb.; beans and bacon, $1. The impression was that a still further reduction in the price of provisions would soon be made. A party has left Williams Creek to prospect the North Fork of Thompson River. A part of Abbott's flume on Williams Creek has been carried off by high water. About sixty men had arrived at Cariboo who went by way of the Coast Route. They say they were six weeks getting there, and give a hard account of the journey. They are "down on" the Coast Route and on the people who induced them to go by it. The provision they took from here was abandoned on the route because Indians could not or would not pack it through to the Fraser. Large droves of cattle were arriving at the mines daily, and beef will soon be very cheap. Mr L. will return to the mines immediately, and thinks it quite soon enough for persons without claims to start.

Arrival of the Gunboat Forward.

Her Majesty's gunboat Forward, Capt. Lascelles, arrived yesterday afternoon from Fort Rupert via Nanaimo. While passing up by Ganges Harbor, Salt Spring Island, the Indians towed by the gunboat were fired at by the Cowichan Indians. The ball whistled over the heads of the Forward's people. Capt. Lascelles sent a boat's crew after the rascals by which they were captured, taken aboard the Forward, and given three dozen each as a gentle reminder to keep their bullets at home in future. The flogging exercised a very wholesome influence on other tribes up the coast, to whom the news was soon communicated. A few cases of small pox occurred among the tribe that were conveyed North by the Forward.

The reported loss of Mr. Morris and party by the capsizing of their whaleboat arose from the fact that their boat was struck by the Flying Dutchman and half filled with water. One man was knocked overboard, but was recovered. Mr. Morris and party left Fort Rupert in tow of the schooner Utsalady. The Utsalady was bound for Stickeen.

The plunger Perfect Cure, schooners Alpha and Elizabeth, and a whaleboat, name unknown, were above Cape Mudge bound for Stickeen. Below Cape Mudge the Nonpariel, also bound for Stickeen, was met. The bark Scotland is coaling at Nanaimo.

Mr. Moffat, at Rupert, reports that Chief Factor McNeil, of Simpson, writes him that the Stickeen diggings are good. The Labouchere left Nanaimo for the North on Saturday morning last.

EXCELLENT OPPORTUNITY.—If a man wants to get rid of his money, or wishes to go morally, physically, and intellectually to the devil, he can accomplish those desirable ends most expeditiously in a new gold country. So long as he has funds, so long will he have friends; he will never fail in finding any number of boon companions ready and anxious to pander to his basest desires, or relieve him of a superfluity of cash. If he be a stranger and desires to make acquaintances of a certain class, all that is necessary for him to do is to jingle a few sovereigns or twenties within earshot of a well-dressed loafer, and manifest a disposition to be "fast" if he only had the opportunity, and he will soon have no lack of acquaintances. Should he follow them closely he will shortly resemble a pigeon plucked to its pinfeathers, and, penniless and houseless, in nine cases out of ten end his days in a chain-gang or a penitentiary. The temptations to do wrong in a country like this, where men are freed from the restraints which society in older communities throw around them, are manifold and great, and require continual watchfulness to be overcome. Since the spring immigration set in, several instances of young men who have fallen among thieves, and lost money at the card-table which they, or perhaps their relatives, have by hard pinching at home saved to enable them to reach Cariboo respectably, have been brought to our notice. One young man in particular, the son of respectable parents, who started from his father's house in Canada with nearly $1000, and never touched a card in his life before embarking on the steamer at New York, has gambled until he is here in town "flat broke," awaiting the arrival of money from home to take him back. He will return to his parents with a blight and stain on his morals, which to the longest day of his life he may never succeed in striking off. Wherever there are found people anxious to be swindled, there will also be found swindlers anxious to accommodate them. We are sorry to say that our country is no exception to the rule; but the fault rests as much with those who are fools enough to wander into the nets which the sharpers spread for them as with the authorities who permit the practices to continue unchecked.

ECLIPSE.—The present will be a year prolific of eclipses, both solar and lunar. On the 12th June there was a total eclipse of the moon before and after midnight; on the 27th, a partial eclipse of the sun in the morning—invisible here, but visible in the Indian Ocean. November 21st, partial eclipse of the sun—visible only in the great Southern Ocean. December 20th, partial eclipse of the sun—visible only in Asia. December 6th, total eclipse of the moon early in the morning—visible here.

NEW MARRIAGE ACT.—The last California Legislature has done away with the loose manner of joining couples in the holy bonds of matrimony which has heretofore prevailed, by passing an Act requiring the procurement of a license before any magistrate or clergyman dare unite a couple. No license will be issued to any male under twenty-one years or any female under eighteen years, without the consent of the parents or guardians of each party. The penalty for each and every violation of the law is a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $1000.

TWIN OAK FARM.—This splendid property will positively be sold on the 21st inst., by Mr. Backus. This farm, it will be remembered, is the property of G. T. Gordon, our defaulting Treasurer, and was seized by Government to satisfy the Crown in lieu of the money which he stole.

☞ The steamship Sierra Nevada is fully due this morning.

Auction Sales.

Mr. McCrea will sell the entire cargo of the bark Onward on a liberal credit to-day. The sale will commence at 11 o'clock, a.m.

At 12 o'clock Mr. Backus will sell four acres of ground situated on Spring Ridge, subject to claims held thereon by the Hudson Bay company.

HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY.—The members present yesterday were the Speaker and Messrs. Harris, Ring, Cary, Tolmie, Trimble, and Franklin. The Fire Limits Bill was recommitted for amendment, and the House went into Committee on the bill to amend the Harbor Dues Act. Mr. Helmcken proposed as an amendment to the bill, that all vessels, steam or otherwise, plying between Victoria and New Westminister be regarded as coasters, and that the same harbor dues be collected from such vessels as for coasters. He instanced the steamer Enterprise, which, according to the proposed schedule, would have to pay $6240 per annum for harbor dues. Mr. Cary could not look on the carrying trade between this port and New Westminister as a coasting trade, and said that it was contrary to instructions received by His Excellency from the Home Government to create differential duties. Mr. Helmcken's amendment was warmly seconded by Mr. Tolmie and Mr. Ring, and as warmly opposed by Mr. Harris and the Chairman, when, after an hour and a half had been occupied in its discussion, it was ascertained that the amendment was a question per se, and had nothing whatever to do with the Harbor Dues Act, or, as was forcibly though rather inelegantly expressed by the honorable member for Esquimalt Town, the House found that it "had only got hold of a rotten egg after all!" The amendment was thrown out by the Chairman, and further consideration of the bill postponed. The Fire Limits Act was next amended to allow frames 18 feet high to be erected, and fixing Broad street as the outer boundary in place of Douglas street.

A CAUTION TO BACHELORS.—Sammy Weller's advice to his dutiful son of "Bevare of vidders, Sammy, bevare of vidders," could never have been read or heard of (or if it was could not have been laid to heart) by a lockmaker named Atkin, residing in Wolverhampton, England, or he would never have found himself in the predicament which we see by a late English paper he has been placed. In 1858, Atkins, being a rollicking young bachelor, married the blooming and gushing widow of one Kershaw, an ex-currycomb maker. It requires no little moral courage to marry a widow, but Atkin also had the rare bravery to take on his back (figuratively speaking) her family of seven small children. At first things moved smoothly enough, but before the honeymoon was over, the bridegroom received a summons to pay the sum of £12, a debt due by the lamented Kershaw, and for the recovery of which a judgment had been obtained against his wife as the executrix of the estate of her deceased husband. Atkins demurred to the payment of the dead man's liability, and a suit was instituted by the creditors, who obtained judgment—His Honor saying that it was a well-known law, "when a man married a woman he became liable for her debts, and he could make no distinction in the case now before him." And so poor Atkins, who thought he was only marrying a "vidder" and seven small children, enjoys the proud and happy consciousness of having also married the high privilege to meet the deceased Kershaw's liabilities.

AN OPPOSITION LINE.—Several capitalists of New York city are agitating the formation of an opposition California steamship line to run via Nicaragua—the route over which the passengers by Garrison's steamers used to be brought years ago. The astonishing increase of immigration from Canada and England to Cariboo, as our readers well know, has caused the old line, or Pacific Mail Steamship Company, to run four boats per month instead of three, as formerly. The consequence is that moneyed New Yorkers think the latter company is making too much money, and, therefore, seek to divide the profits by the formation of a new line. There can be no question that if a new line were started it would meet with much encouragement—especially from Englishmen and Canadians, many of whom on their way to this colony have endured unheard of insults and wrongs at the hands of the commanders and officers of the Mail Company's boats. Besides, a healthy opposition would reduce the cost of passage, insure better treatment and food, and greater expedition.

NEW WHARF.—We learn that Henry Rhodes, Esq., of the firm of Janion & Green, will shortly cause a fine wharf to be constructed a short distance above the site of the old bridge, at which the largest vessels may safely lie and discharge their cargo.

SHIPPING.—The bark W. B. Scranton has discharged her cargo and will sail for Port Ludlow. The bark Onward commenced discharging yesterday. The barks Ionia and Narrimissic are over due at this port from San Francisco.

DISCHARGED.—Henry Spence, accused of stealing $5 from the till of the Phœnix Saloon, was yesterday discharged from custody by Mr. Pemberton, the evidence against him being insufficient to warrant a conviction.

AT HALF-MAST.—The flag of the St. Andrew's Society was placed at half-mast yesterday as a mark of respect to the memory of James Bell, late an efficient member of the organization.

A SECOND STORY.—Workmen have commenced to erect a second story on Henderson & Burnaby's building, Wharf street.

☞ A third attempt is about to be made to introduce salmon into Australia.

Kite Flying.

EDITOR BRITISH COLONIST:—"Kite flying" in the allegorical sense is attended with danger, chiefly to the operator himself; and so far, perhaps, is not a matter for outside interference; but kite-flying, in a literal point of view—however calculated to inspire the young idea with mounting aspirations—and dear to the American heart from its connection with the Philadelphia sage, who "eripuit colo fulmen" is productive of considerable possible peril to the mounted aspirant—and in consideration of the danger, and, what must be confessed, the equestrian deficiences for which Victoria is remarkable—it is to be hoped that the police will restrain our juvenile Franklin's from the ærotechnical arausements, which have become a positive nuisance in our streets, for it is not every man who, when his path is crossed by a kite-string or its fluttering tail, can sit a

BUCEPHALUS.

CHICKEN SCURVY.—The symptoms of this disease, which might with right be called chicken scurvy, and which occurs very frequently, are: want of appetite, great thirst, difficulty in swallowing food, and secretion of a slimy substance at the mouth, the bowels at the same time being very loose. Opening the beak you will see the mouth inside, on both sides of the tongue, under the tongue itself, and stretched down the throat, covered with a yellowish grey substance, which I consider to be a parasitic excresence of the mucous membrane. By removing this substance with a pen-knife, which can be easily done, till even the blood comes, and then pouring about three times, at intervals of five minutes each, some strong vinegar, containing a small quantity of dissolved alum, into the mouth of the chicken, then close the beak for a little while, after which you drop some sweet oil upon the sores, which will heal rapidly and the fowl recover.—Baltimore Sun.

DISMISSED.—Captain Jones, 7th U. S. Infantry, used insulting language towards a Secession chaplain of the rebel forces, (a prisoner at Fort Columbus,) and was court-martialed and dismissed the service therefor.

A Union Parody.

We don't care if the parody given below is a Union version of a very old song; it's got the "ring of the true metal," and the fellow who "invented" it must be a genius. The "Lord Lovell" mentioned in the parody was commander of the rebel forces in New Orleans, a city recently captured from the rebels by the Union forces, and with his "merrie men" ran away before the fleet arrived at the city:

THE NEW BALLAD OF LORD LOVELL.

Lord Lovell he sat in St. Charles's Hotel,
In St. Charles's Hotel sat he,
As fine a case of a Southern swell
As ever you'd wish to see—see—see,
As ever you'd wish to see.

Lord Lovell the town had vowed to defend,
A-waving his sword on high,
He swore that his last ounce of powder he'd spend
And in the last ditch he'd die.

He swore by black and he swore by blue,
He swore by the stars and bars,
That never he'd fly from a Yankee crew
While he was a son of Mars.

He had fifty thousand gallant men,
Fifty thousand men had he,
Who had all sworn to him that they'd never surren-
Der to any tarnation Yankee.

He had forts that no Yankee could take,
He had iron-clad boats a score,
And batteries all around the Lake
And along the river shore.

Sir Farragut came with a mighty fleet,
With a mighty fleet came he,
And Lord Lovell instanter began to retreat
Before the first boat he could see.

His fifty thousand gallant men
Ran down to thousands six;
They heard a distant cannon and then
Commenced to cut their sticks!

"Oh tarry, Lord Lovell!" Sir Farragut cried,
"Oh tarry, Lord Lovell!" said he,
"I rather think not," Lord Lovell replied,
"For I'm in a great hurry.

I like the drinks at St. Charles's Hotel,
But I never could bear strong Porter,
Especially when it's served in a shell,
Or mixed in an iron mortar."

"I reckon you're right," Sir Farragut said,
"I reckon you're right," said he,
"For if my Porter should fly at your head,
A terrible smash there'd be."

Oh! it was a wonder to see them run,
A wonderful thing to see,
And the Yankees sailed up without shooting a gun,
And captured the great citie.

Lord Lovell kept running all day and night,
Lord Lovell a running kept he,
For he swore he couldn't avoid the sight
Of the gun of a live Yankee.

When Lord Lovell's life was brought to a close,
By a sharp-shooting Yankee gunner,
From his head there sprouted a red red nose,
From his feet—a Scarlet Runner.

THE MUSICIAN AND THE COUNSELOR.—The following anecdote is told of Tom Cooke, the actor and musician:

At a trial in the Court of King's Bench, June, 1833, between certain publishing tweedledums and tweedledees, as to the alleged piracy of an arrangement of the Old English Gentleman—an old English air, by-the-bye—Cooke was subpœnaed as a witness. On his cross-examination by Sir James Scarlett, afterwards Lord Abinger, for the opposite side, that learned counsel rather flippantly questioned him thus:

"Now, sir, you say that the two melodies are the same, but different; now what do you mean by that, sir?"

To this Tom promptly answered: "I said that the notes in the two copies were alike, but with a different accent, the one being in common time, the other in six-eight time; and, consequently, the position of the accented notes was different."

Sir James—"What is musical accent?"

Cooke—"My terms are a guinea a lesson, sir." (A loud laugh.)

Sir James (rather ruffled)—"Never mind your terms here. I ask you what is musical accent? Can you see it?"

Cook—"No."

Sir James—"Can you feel it?"

Cook—"A musician can." (Great laughter.)

Sir James (very angry)—"Now, pray, sir, don't beat about the bush, but explain to his lordship and the jury, who are supposed to know nothing about music, the meaning of what you call accent."

Cook—"Accent in music is a certain stress laid upon a particular note, in the same manner as you would lay a stress upon any given word for the purpose of being better understood. Thus, if I were to say, 'You are an ass'—it rests on ass; but if I were to say, 'You are an ass,—it rests on you, Sir James."

Reiterated shouts of laughter by the whole court, in which the bench itself joined, followed this repartee. Silence having been at length obtained, the judge (Lord Denman) with much seeming gravity, accosted the chop-fallen counsel thus: "Are you satisfied, Sir James?"

Sir James (deep red as he naturally was, to use poor Jack Reeve's own words, had become scarlet in more than name) in a great puff, said: "The witness may go down."

A SUIT ABOUT FOURTEEN CENTS.—There has been somewhat of a novel suit just argued before the Court of Appeals, in which the enormous sum of fourteen cents is involved. It is the case of a stockholder in the Chattenango Bank against the officers. A few years ago a dividend was declared by the directors of the bank. The stockholders in taking up their dividends took specie and exchange on New York, and when the plaintiff called for his dividend, which amounted to fifty-six dollars, they handed him New York State currency, which was then at one-fourth per cent. discount. This the stockholder refused to accept, and said that he would either take specie or the bills of their own bank, on which he could get the specie if he desired. The directors refused to do either, and the stockholder at once commenced a suit against them. The case has been carried through all the Courts, and is now before the Court of Appeals, the last resort under State jurisdiction. The currency in which they offered to pay him was one-fourth per cent. discount. This discount on fifty-six dollars—his dividend—is just fourteen cents. Having had it argued in several Courts, it must have cost him several hundred dollars by this time, probably as much as the whole amount of his bank stock. The bank is also in the mire just as deep as their stockholder is in the mud. By refusing to pay their own bank bills they have run up a nice bill of costs over an item of fourteen cents, which will, to more or less extent, affect the profits of the institution.—Syracuse (N. Y) Journal.

☞ The Bank of France was robbed lately by one of the garcons de caisse, who has absconded with 150,000f. in notes. On the preceding evening one of the governors of the Bank had summoned before him the messenger of one of the Paris houses, who alleged having received 1000f. too little, and accused one of the garcons of the Bank of having kept them. "Sir," said the governor, in a stern voice, "know that the garcons of the Bank are incapable of dishonesty."

☞ Marshal Pelissier is about to take a trip across to Senegal, and for his expedition artesian wells are to be bored in the desert of Sahara which he traverses.

PHOTOGRAPH OF PARSON BROWNLOW.—The New York Commercial gives a pen and ink sketch of Parson Baownlow: "He is about the medium height, of a spare frame, with something of the appearance of emaciation. His hair is black, smooth and rather long. His countenance is full of character. His complexion is sallow, and the face wears a look of melancholy, almost sadness, combined with a something that impresses you with the conviction that underneath that aspect of intense and habitual contemplation, sleep an indomitable purpose and an immense force of will. The mouth indicates firmness as clearly as the the eyes do intelligence and concentration of thought. The gentleman's bearing is modest and his manner retiring. The casual observer would pronounce him to be preeminently a quiet man—one who would pass through the streets or walk through a crowd occupied only with his own thoughts, and interfering with no one, unless first rudely accosted or assailed. No one familiar with the public life of Mr. Brownlow, as recorded in the public prints, but having seen neither pencil nor pen portrait of him, would take this Mr. Brownlow to be that Mr Brownlow, whose fame has spread over the Union."

RESOLUTIONS OF THE LIVERPOOL CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.—The Manchester Examiner of May 6th says:

Three resolutions of an important character were adopted by the Liverpool Chamber of Commerce yesterday. The first was to memorialize the Government for the establishment of a line of mail-packets between Panama, Vancouver Island and British Columbia; and the second to ask, in a similar way, for the construction of a telegraph line between Rangoon and Singapore, in order to shorten the communication with India, China and Australia. The third was the adoption of a resolution condemnatory of the import duty of 1s a quarter levied on grain. This duty was held to be a violation of free-trade principles, and a great hindrance to a trade in corn.

THE COTTON MANUFACTURE OF ENGLAND.—In the United Kingdom there were, in 1861, in all, 6378 factories, which contained 36,450,000 spindles and 490,866 power looms, which engaged 230,564 hand loom weavers. The aggregate steam power, according to the average indication, and expressed in horse-power, was 375,294; and the water-power measured in the same way, 29,339; together, therefore, equal to 404,633 of horse power. The total number of hands employed was 775,534, whereof 308,273 were males and 467,261 females. This gives an average of one hundred and twenty-one hands to each description of factory. The number of children under thirteen years of age attending school was 54,411—namely, 23,863 boys and 30,548 girls.

SELLING HIS OWN CHILDREN.—A novel question has been presented to the Emancipation Commissioners at Washington, D. C. John Hatton, colored, filed his petition among the first claiming compensation for his three children, Martha, Henry and George, all of whom are adults. Martha and Henry were purchased from Ellsworth Bayne, of Prince George's county, Md., in 1841, for $128, and George was purchased from John H. Bayne in 1844 for $160. Hatton values his children now at $1000 each, and has stated his claim at that figure.

A correspondent of the Chicago Times charges that the step mother of President Lincoln is a poor bedridden old woman, living on the charity of the people of Charleston, Ill. She has written to him repeatedly for aid, but not a syllable or a dime has she received.

The new cupola ship to be constructed in England is to be 280 feet long, nearly 2,000 tons, will draw about 20 feet, and will have engines of 600 horse power. She will have six cupolas, each armed with two 100-pounder Armstrong guns.

The formalities of passing through the custom-house at Boulogne have been abolished, and passengers can now land with small hand bags free from any examination whatever, and are on the same footing as at Folkeston or any English port.

A crown of thorns was exhibited to the faithful at Notre Dame, Paris, during Passion Week. The officiating priest declared that it was the identical one worn by our Saviour.

DEATH OF AN ACTOR.—John Drew, the celebrated and popular Irish comedian, died recently in Philadelphia, U. S., of disease of the heart.

☞ "Old Brains" is the significant but somewhat disrespectful title bestowed upon General Halleck by his troops.

The sale of the furniture, jewels, plate, etc., of the courtesan, Anna Deslions, in Paris, realized upwards of $400,000.

The marble elephants which stood in the Kaiser Bagh at Lucknow, and which were removed from there a short time since, are en route for England, as an offering to "the Empress of India."

VICTORIANS should test the merits of Dr. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. While it is highly palatable as a beverage, it is unequalled as a tonic and invigorator. In the pursuit of fortune at the mines many persons are exposed to the attacks of complaints of the digestive organs and of various kinds of fever. It is the very article that has so long been in demand at the mines. Its daily use will restore the tone of a deranged stomach, impart fresh vitality to the digestive functions, and cheer the spirits. Yet the Bitters are the safest of all stimulants. Let the miner who is exposed to hot and dry, wet and cold, be certain to obtain a supply of the genuine Hostetter's Bitters, and he will find it a certain safeguard to health.

BAD LEGS, BAD BREASTS, AND ULCERS.—The treatment erroneously pursued in these cases, is to drive the disease inwards, thus making matters far worse than by allowing it to take its natural course, as it only breaks out elsewhere with an aspect ten times more dreadful than before. Holloway's celebrated Ointment and Pills, however, act in conjunction, the one internally and the other externally, and by the conjunction of these two inestimable specifics, all descriptions of external diseases are speedily and rapidally removed, even when all other means fail.

Throat Affections.—From Rev. E. Rowley, A. M., President Athens College, Athens, Tenn.—"I have found great benefit from the use of "Brown's Bronchial Troches," before and after preaching, as they prevent hoarseness, to which I am very subject. I think from their past effect they will be of permanent advantage to me. Several clergymen of my acquaintance to whom I have given the Troches have been benefitted by them."

JAYNE'S SANATIVE PILLS,

A Mild, Prompt, and Effective Remedy.

There is scarcely any disease in which purgative medicines are not required; and much sickness and suffering might be prevented were they more generally used. No person can feel well while a costive habit of body prevails, because it soon generates serious and often fatal diseases, which might be avoided by timely and judicious use of proper Cathartic medicines.

Convinced of the correctness of these views,

JAYNE'S SANATIVE PILLS

Are recommended with the greatest confidence, experience having demonstrated them to be far superior to any other in use, being more mild prompt sale and uniform in their operation. While using them no particular care is required, and patients may eat and drink as usual. Age will not impair them, as they are so combined as to always readily dissolve in the stomach. In small doses they are alterative and gently laxative, but in large doses are actively cathartic cleansing the whole alimentary canal from all putrid, irritating and fecal matters

For DYSPEPSIA, these Pills are really an invaluable article gradually changing the vitiated secretions of the Stomach and Liver, and producing healthy action in those important organs. In cases of long standing, a cure will be more speedily effected by using, in conjunction with the Pills, either Jayne's Alterative or Tonic Vermifuge, according to directions.

For Liver Complaint, Gout, Jaundice, Affections of the Bladder and Kidneys, Fevers, Nervousness, Disease of the Skin, Impurity of the Blood, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Piles, Female Diseases, and Bilious Affections, these Pills have proved themselves eminently successful. All that is asked for them is a fair trial.

The SANATIVE PILLS and all of Dr. D. Jayne's Family Medicines are sold by CURTIS & MOORE and LANGLEY BROS., Victoria, from whom may also be obtained "Jayne's Medical Almanac and Guide to Health," containing, besides a valuable Calendar, a catalogue of Diseases, together with the symptoms by which they may be known, and the proper remedies for their cure. CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

Fraudulent Imitation of Hostetter's

STOMACH BITTERS.

☞ We warn the Public against a gang of scoundrels who are engaged in counterfeiting HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS. These villains, who subsist by pirating, have exhibited a cunning equal to their rascality by selecting this most popular STOMACH BITTERS. Dealers from whom better things might have been expected have in some instances connived at the imposition for the purpose of sharing in the plunder.

On the principle that the receiver is as culpable as the thief, and that the passer of spurious money is as criminal as the forger, the makers and venders of COUNTERFEIT HOSTETTER'S BITTERS stand on the same MORAL level. The great reputation acquired by the BITTERS as a cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and all debilitating diseases of the Stomach and Bowels, has tempted a host of sharks, who hope to profit by their celebrity.

Notice to the Public.

SAINSEVAIN'S WINE BITTERS; OR California Vermouth.---These Bitters are obtaining a wide-spread celebrity in all parts of the State. It is sufficient evidence of their great merit to observe the large quantities shipped by our principal Wine Merchants to every part of the country

Sainsevain, however, like all other manufacturers of new and valuable articles, has to contend with unscrupulous parties, who are introducing a spurious mixture purporting to be his Wine Bitters, which noxious compounds are put up in the same style of bottles, labels, etc, so as to pass for the Sainsevain brand. We call attention to this fact so that our citizens may be upon their guard, and that when they ask for Sainsevain's Bitters, see that they get them. As pure Wine is destined to drive from use all alcoholic decoctions, so these Bitters will soon take the place of the adulterated preparations which now flood our market Those desiring a pure and agreeable tonic should try Sainsevain's Wine Bitters or California Vermouth.

We have appointed W. H. OLIVER, of Victoria, V. I., to be our Sole Agent for the British Possessions.
